

No discipline has the last word.

"No sign means alone."

Syntagma is an interface, not an institution: an open place where findings from all fields come into relation — humanities, art, medicine, natural science, technology. Anyone can join the research. Approaches from absurd to calculated — as makes sense to you. We do not pass final judgment on right and wrong; we hold standpoints, and re-examination decides. There is no endpoint: always smaller, better, faster — everything with everything, for everyone.

● QUESTION — RELATION — DISCOURSE ●

OPEN IN EVERYTHING

- 01 Open research. Open access, open source. Whoever researches, shares.
- 02 Open networking. Anyone can contribute — the argument decides.
- 03 Open organisation. Rules, path and workshop lie open.
- 04 Open funding. Transparent; under exploration: RETURN — free for individuals, profit gives back.
- 05 Dissent is method. No authority replaces re-examination.
- 06 Sovereign, no arms. Own means, a hard ethical limit.

TAKE PART

- Give research input NOW
A question, a finding, an objection — by mail.
- Spread it NOW
Use texts (CC) and tools (AGPL) freely.
- Propose a work NOW
A topic that belongs in relation — by mail.
- Contribute to the corpus WITH SPIN-OFF
Public repository, pull request.

SELF-UNDERSTANDING

Rescale, rethink, reconnect. Truth as an endpoint likely never comes — which is exactly why the work stays open.

FIELDS — THE LIST IS OPEN

- | | | | | | | |
|------------|------------|-----------|-------------------|----------|-----------|-----------------|
| Humanities | Philosophy | Art | Artistic research | Medicine | Biologics | Natural science |
| Technology | Law | Economics | Governance | | | |